and join the professionals

Start your journey into professional IT within days as we provide self study materials allowing you to prepare for the exciting training ahead.

Induction Day: Getting started with MCTS (1 day)

This induction session will give prospective candidates an opportunity to explore the training materials and identify current IT skills, all with our Microsoft Certified Instructor on hand to answer your questions.

Self Study (approx 2 to 4 weeks)

This self study module introduces foundation IT skills such as how to perform installations, configuring PC's, diagnosing problems as well as covering preventive maintenance and basic networking. These study materials allow you to fit your learning around your life and so you can train anywhere, anytime.

By providing an intensive course, time to reflect on what you have learnt and a follow up exam preparation workshop REDTRAY Academy gives you the best chance of passing your exam first time.

Microsoft Official Course - MOC 6292 (3 days)

A three day face to face classroom course in one of our high technology learning centres on Installing and Configuring the Windows 7 Operating System.

Exam Prep & Practice Exams (approx 2 weeks)

Assimilate knowledge from the course and practice passing the exam.

Exam preparation Workshop (1 day)

We provide workshops to help you study for the exam. Use this workshop to brush up on your knowledge prior to the exam and receive hints and tips to help you pass. These workshops are taken by our highly qualified instructors, to give you the best preparation possible for the exam.

MCTS Windows 7 Exam ( Half day )

You will need to pass exam (70-680) to achieve MCTS status.

Start applying for Jobs

We cannot guarantee you a job because the job interview is between you and the potential employer so REDTRAY cannot influence an employer's final decision. However, we can help you organise your CV, approach job boards and websites which have jobs advertised specifically requiring your certification. Furthermore, we will connect you with our partners that specialise in the job placement and recruitment industry, increasing your opportunities to enhance your career.

We help you advance your career by providing support during the CV and interview preparation stage.
